Asst. Secretary, Finance.

It is desirable that the financial position of all State aided industries -- (as distinguished from State financed industries) should be reviewed every year - in a systematic way. Please put up a draft order enumerating all the State aided industries and suggesting that a tabular statement shewing the main features of the financial result of the working in respect of each with a brief report should be submitted by the Comptroller to Government every year. The report should specially mention whether the Government's holding the concern is appreciated or depreciated during the year and whether any change in the method of financial control is called for.

Note No. 171 dt 3.3.19

I think the statement proposed in para 4 of the Draft Order will be more complete if it is prepared by the Director of Industries and Commerce and sent through the Comptroller. I propose this procedure as this office may not be aware of all the kinds of aid which the Government may have sanctioned for the concerns to be included in Statement A. or of the control exercised by Government over them through the Department of Industries and Commerce. The information to be inserted in columns 4 and 6 of the Statement will be limited to what is available in the published Balance Sheets if the statement is compiled by the Comptroller alone. The Department of Industries and Commerce will be in close touch with the working of the concerns and it is therefo therefore in a better position to insert information of value in column 6 of the statement. The Comptroller's Office can furnish accurate information in regard to the loans advanced, how far the terms of the loans are being observed by the debtors, the amounts invested in the purchase of shares &c. Other information of value, such as the valuation of assets, is likely to be more accurate if furnished by the Department of Industries and Commerce. I would therefore suggest that statement A may be prepared in the Director's Office and sent with the supporting Balance Sheets to this office for being supplemented in respect of information available in it and submitted to Government.
